Oct 26, 2019 Play Left 4 Dead 2 NoSteam In the midst of a highly competitive election campaign, a new poll shows that a majority of Canadians want their current Liberal government to remain in power. Our latest Nanos Research survey shows Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's Liberals enjoying a lead of 46 per cent compared to 33 per cent for his

Conservative opponents Andrew Scheer's Conservatives. Just last month, when the party filed its last election expense statement, Liberal campaign spending on fundraising exceeded Conservative spending for the first time since the 2011 election campaign. "The Liberals do not come out ahead in every category that the Nanos numbers show," said Nik Nanos, President of Nanos Research. "It shows that there is at least one thing that Justin Trudeau and his team can be proud of: They have the ability to win elections." Trudeau also leads his opponents in party identification and choice of leader, with 43 per cent saying they prefer Trudeau as leader compared to 27 per cent for Scheer. The online survey polled a total of 1,200 Canadians and was conducted between July 24 to 28. The poll is part of Nanos' quarterly series of polls of Canadians. "Despite all the swirl and sound of the campaign, we don't think the polls are showing a significant shift in voter behaviour," Nanos said. "We have seen a few blips from the Conservatives here 3da54e8ca3
